TRAIN HIT AUTOMOBILE

Three Persons Hurt in Accident Near Burlington.

Burlington, Nov. 3.—The B. and L. train crashed into the rear of a Ford automobile owned and driven by Theodore Cummings of Jeffersonville at Winooski today throwing the five occupants out and hurling the car about 50 feet to the side of the road, smashing the rear wheels and mud guards and seriously injuring Mr. Cummings, his wife and Mrs. Ruth Chase. The two Cummings children escaped with scratches about the body and face. Mrs. Chase was the most seriously hurt. She received a depressed fracture of the skull and fractured bone in the wrist and contusions about the face and body.

It was necessary to operate upon Mrs. Chase and her condition this evening was considered more hopeful. Mr. Cummings received a fracture of the right leg just below the hip and was bruised about the body and face. Mrs. Cummings received injuries about the hips and body bruises and is suffering from a nervous shock. The children were a three-months-old daughter and a son about four years old.

Mr. Cummings, when interviewed, stated that he did not see the oncoming train and stated that he went clear to the right side of the road near the electric car track to look up the Central Vermont tracks, but did not see any train in sight.

Just as he was crossing the second rail the train hit the automobile.

WAS ORGAN DESIGNER

Death of Charles Henkel, Well-Known Carver of Estey Company

Brattleboro, Nov. 4.—Charles Henkel, 73 years old, designer of many of the organs made by the Estey Organ company during 40 years, died this morning in his home.

Mr. Henkel was born in Germany. With his parents he came to America as a boy and during his early life in New York attended art schools and was an apprentice under Plasmann, the foremost wood carver of his day.

He was active as a member of the Turn Verein and in young manhood traveled with a body of Turn Verein members giving athletic exhibitions in many of the large cities of the country.

He located in Springfield, Mass., where he kept a wood carving shop. At the outbreak of the Civil War he was working in Green River and there had a class of young men who were drilled by him in athletic and military exercises. Mr. Henkel had a wood carving shop here for several years. He first entered the employ of the Estey company when it was located near the site of the old Brattleboro house and then went to Norwich, Conn., where he was superintendent of a shop for a short time.

He returned to the employ of the Estey company as a wood carver and designer and in later years devoted his time entirely to designing. Some of the organs he designed and carved were for foreign trade and one was on exhibition at the world's fair in Chicago.

VILLA KIDNAPPED

TWO AMERICAN SURGEONS

Four Men Mexican General Reported Dead Are Alive

HELD PRISONERS AT CANANEA

Believed Villa Issued Fake Report that Surgeons Might Be Held to Attend Wounded.

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 5.—General Villa has ordered the release of Drs. R. H. Thigpen and James Miller and their American chauffeurs, J. D. Pyant and A. K. Wilson, whom he reported dead yesterday, according to a message received this afternoon. The men were prisoners at Cananea. The doctors will remain at Cananea to care for wounded, but the chauffeurs will return to the border.

General Villa said he was mistaken when he reported the four killed by General Calles, and added that he believed the men slain southwest of Agua Prieta Wednesday were four American teamsters who came with him from Chihuahua.

Villa is said to be in urgent need of surgeons to care for his wounded. The belief was generally expressed that he reported the death of Miller and Thigpen as a ruse, so that he might use them to attend his troops without being subject to inquiry.

London Gives Details of the Ramazan Disaster of Sept. 19.

London, Nov. 5.—Official announcement by the War Office tonight of the sinking of the British transport Ramazan by a hostile submarine in the Aegean Sea in the latter part of September, previously reported, shows that more than 300 men were lost when the transport went down.

The official statement says: "The War Office announces that the British transport Ramazan was sunk by an enemy submarine by shell fire at 6 a. m. on September 19, off the island of Antikythra in the Aegean Sea. There were about 300 Indian troops on board, of whom seventy-five were saved. Twenty-eight of the crew were also saved. A number of boats were smashed by shell fire.

"The survivors reached Antikythra in their own boats the same night and were kindly and hospitably treated by the inhabitants."

REPULSE TURKS' ATTACKS

Allies at Dardanelles Beat Off Successive Assaults.

London, Nov. 5.—The Turkish forces in the Dardanelles took the offensive yesterday, and made four attacks on the positions of the Allies. All these attacks were repulsed. It was announced in this official statement issued today:

THE PRESIDENT himself admits there is no reason for a change in our policy," says Mr. Bryan, and continued: "He says the country is not threatened from any quarter. She stands in friendly relation with all the world. Her resources and her self-respect and capacity to care for her own citizens and right are well known, and to make the statement more emphatic, he adds, "There is no fear among us. If we are not threatened by any nation, if our relations with all nations are friendly, if anybody knows that we are able to defend ourselves if necessary, and if there is no fear among us, why is this time chosen to revolutionize our national theories and to exchange our policy for the policy of Europe?"

"Why abandon the hope that we have so long entertained of setting an example to Europe? Why encourage the nations of Europe in their fatal folly by imitating them? Why impose upon the western hemisphere a policy so disastrous?"

"There has not been a time in 50 years when there was less reason to add to the expenses of the army and navy, for we are not only without an enemy but our preparedness is increasing relatively as the other nations exhaust themselves."

WHAT IS A FAWN?

Commissioner Titcomb Says It is a Dear Born This Year

Lyndonville, Nov. 4.—In reply to many inquiries the following circular has been issued from the office of John W. Titcomb, Fish and Game Commissioner:

"During the approaching open season 'any wild deer except fawn' may be killed. This protection of fawns has led to many inquiries as to what is a fawn.

The intent of the legislature in drafting the present deer law was to amend the old law sufficiently to make it lawful to shoot both bucks and does during the present season. 'Any deer' means both male and female. Fawns are excepted as they are by the laws of almost all states in which deer are hunted. The specification of fawns in the Vermont law has been unnecessary heretofore, because bucks with horns not less than three inches in length were the only animals which could be lawfully killed. The male or buck fawn does not have horns three inches long until older. Webster defines fawn as 'a buck or doe of the first year.' In other words a fawn is a deer born during the present year which means that it was dropped sometime last March or later. It is as easy to distinguish between a fawn and a deer as it is to distinguish the difference between a cow and a calf when the latter is not more than six months old.

"No hunter will shoot a little fawn if he is a sportsman and if the hunter does not take time enough to see whether the object of his aim is a fawn or mature animal he is liable to shoot a human being. With the elimination of the buck law, for which one of the strongest arguments advanced by its advocates is the safeguarding of the lives of fellow hunters, let us be thankful that the fawn law, besides the obvious reason for its enactment, may be a safety first warning to some of the many persons whose first experience in handling a high power gun comes with the open season of deer."

BRYAN AGIN DEFENCE

Former Secretary Attacks President's Policy.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—Former Secretary of State Bryan came out squarely against President Wilson's national defense plan today in a formal statement. A departure from our traditions, the reversal of our national policy, a menace to our peace and safety and a challenge to the spirit of Christianity, which teaches us to influence others by example rather than by exciting fear, is Mr. Bryan's expressed view of the national defense plans as set forth in the president's speech last night.

"The president himself admits there is no reason for a change in our policy," says Mr.
